

1994 Honda Vehicles

Accord EX Sedan shown in Sage Green Metallic.

1994 Accord Honda has been thinking ahead, and the result is a car that will exceed your every expectation. The Accord has been totally redesigned. The ride and handling are superb, as is the overall durability. The new VTEC engine on the EX is more powerful and efficient. The look is stylish and very aerodynamic. And the Accord continues to excel in safety, providing a driver's and front passenger's airbags Supplemental Restraint System (SRS) and meeting federal side-impact standards set for 1997.

Whether it's the convenient Sedan, stylish Coupe or versatile Wagon*, this is the best Accord ever built. Quieter, roomier, safer, more powerful and a better value than any previous model. But what else would you expect from Honda?

The new Accord has its sights set well beyond 1994.

Made in America

Honda has been making automobiles here in America for the past 11 years. Last year, three out of five Hondas as well as four out of five Accord Coupes, Sedans and Wagons sold in the United States were made here.

In fact, for the past seven years, American Honda has been exporting cars like the Accord to such countries as Japan, Germany and Brazil. Over 20 different international markets have come to admire Ohio-crafted Honda automobiles.
